

Ejemplo de una buena redacción

What is your favourite childhood memory?

Nota: en negrita están los errores

One of the best moments of my childhood are those afternoons when my grandfather used to took me to the cofee shop after my english classes.

With only 9 years old I didn't fully appreciated those moments as I do now.

Now a days I look back to the past and I see the magic on those simple thigs.

Now my grandpa is too old to take me to the cofee shop, besides I recently moved to another country.

What I truly regret its not spending that much time with my grandfather when I could.

I know that time flies and sadly I'm not sure how much time I'll have with my grandfather. But I promised him that, as soon as I travel to visit him, I will take him to that same cofee shop.

It may be late to regret those moments I didn't spent with him the last few years. But I still have time to show him how much I miss them.

Aquí podéis ver la redacción anterior junto a las correcciones oportunas:

One of the best moments of my childhood are those afternoons when my grandfather used to take me to the coffee shop after my english classes.

With only 9 years old I didn't fully appreciated those moments as I do now.

Nowadays I look back to the past and I see the magic in those simple things.

Now my grandpa is too old to take me to the coffee shop, besides I've recently moved to another country.

What I truly regret is not spending that much time with my grandfather when I could.

I know that time flies and sadly I'm not sure how much time I'll have with my grandfather. But I promised him that, as soon as I travel to visit him, I will take him to that same coffee shop.

It may be late to regret those moments I didn't spend with him the last few years. But I still have time to show him how much I miss them.

Ejemplo de una mala redacción

Is it better to have a holiday abroad or stay in your own country?

Nota: en negrita están los errores

In my point of view we should travel first around our contry.

I'm agree with this answer, because we need to learn first and know more about our place. First because it's the place who we live, and second we need to know more from our contry to learn and compare with other places who we will go to visit.

Then we can visit our places and learn other cultures. But I think who we need to learn have form to win money, have attractions to the tourists, for example, the museums, restaurants or a lot of different thinks, because with these we can practice some of this ideas in our contry.

However, we'll see some thinks who we make bad, and we can improve it to be better.

Aquí tenéis la corrección de los errores que aparecen en negrita:

From my point of view we should travel first around our country.

I agree with this statement, because we need to learn first and know more about our place. First because it's the place where we live, and second we need to know more from our country to learn and compare with other places that we will visit.

Then we can visit our places and learn other cultures. But I think that we need to learn how to make money, have attractions for the tourists, for example, museums, restaurants or a lot of different things, with these we can practice some of these ideas in our country.

However, we'll see some things that we made badly, and we can improve them to be better.